NORWAY AND VICINITY.

Services at Universalist Church.

The evening services for the past week have been largely attended, some evenings more than could get into the church. Sunday, Rev. H. B. Hoyt was called to Hiram. He returned on Monday for the evening meeting. Guy Irving Waltz, the singer, sang in several of the Norway church services during the evening. He played the pastors of the two villages conducted the meeting.

Mr. Waltz has sung to the sick and aged in this vicinity besides his public singing, and a great many have enjoyed his singing. He plays his accompaniments on the zither.

Rev. D. A. Tuttle and twenty or more came over from Bolster's Mills, Tuesday evening, to attend the meeting.

The Union Gospel services concluded Wednesday night with a full house. The spirit of unity and fellowship between the two churches has been perfect. The moral and spiritual condition of the village has been promoted and a goodly number of people, young, middle aged and old, have given their lives to the Christ. The speaker, Rev. H. B. Hoyt, and the singer, Guy I. Waltz, have won their way to the hearts of all who heard them, and the good wishes and prayers of the people of Norway, will follow them wherever they go.

The memory of this week's meeting will ever be fragrant in the hearts of all who came to secure the great good received.

Rev. H. B. Hoyt, of Hiram, the Universalist minister of that town, has been of great assistance in these meetings. Mr. Hoyt has charge of the parishes of Hiram, Brownfield and North Fryeburg.

At the time when he took this charge, it was not thought probable that the parishes would long be able to have a minister. Since the coming of Mr. Hoyt, the church has become prosperous and seventy new members have joined.

The little people in the chorus—the girls and boys—presented Mr. Waltz with a book of poems, in burnt leather binding, and also gave Mr. Hoyt a present. The recipients were greatly pleased with the thoughtfulness of their little friends. Mr. Waltz said when presented with his gift, "I could give you all a present." A tiny girl answered, "You have given us our present, Mr. Waltz, you have helped us." Mr. Waltz goes from here to sing at meetings in New Jersey; Mr. Hoyt to attend meetings in the eastern part of the State.

There were seventy-five to one hundred voices in the chorus besides those in the audience who sang. The most popular song was what they called the "Glorious Song," or the book name "That will be Glory for Me." The other hymns were good but none rang out quite so true as this, or caused such bright faces among the singers. Mr. Waltz's best solo was that familiar piece "Where is my Boy To-night," and the answer.

Wagons have appeared on our streets, though sleighs are principally used for travel.

There was a break in the Pike Hill spring water pipe of C. B. Cummings & Sons, Thursday.

Friday evening the Professional whist club will be entertained at G. L. Curtis' on Danforth street.

Joseph Holt, an old fish, oyster and clam man, is suffering from a rose cancer over the right eye.

The crew that was sawing wood with a gasoline engine outfit were sawing at H. B. Foster's, Friday.

The high room at N. H. S. had a new pictorial atlas presented to them by C. F. Barnes last week.

Randall Porter went to Rockland this week, where he was "best man" at the wedding of a cousin.

Rev. E. S. Cotton was called to Massachusetts the first of the week to attend the funeral of a friend.

The Eastern Telephone Co. have got out a new list of subscribers for Norway and Oxford Exchanges.

D. W. Goodwin has cut 8,000 cakes of ice this season on Pennessowassee lake, Hobbs pond and Round pond.

Street Vendor's Procession.

Ladies' circle at vestry of Congregational church Jan. 31. Baked bean and salad supper. Supper at 6:45, entertainment, Pudding's Parade at 8.

The Congregational ladies with greetings most hearty

Invite you to come to their Vendor's Party. And see the sights of the Fakirs' Row. Each in his costume queer you know; There'll be the chief in cap and gown. Who'll sell you doughnuts hot and brown. The cook who'll make the nicest cake As only our own people make.

Pies, candy, popcorn, jam and jellies, And the hoksey poksey who ice cream yellies; While each in poem or song will tell. About the wares he has to sell; Hardly gently and tamourous will be there. To add to the program their small share. To admit 'twill need but a very small sum But a better bring more with you when you come.

Of good things we'll have so many in store, We're very sure you will want more. And you certainly would be very sad If nothing to carry home you had. Remember the place—beginning with date And get your ticket before it is too late. And be on time that you may see "Street Vendor's Procession from A to Z"

Martha Washington Sale.

The Martha Washington sale will be at Concert Hall, Wednesday evening, Feb. 21st. There will be an apron table, variety table, home made food table, home made candy table and others. A baked bean, salad and pastry supper will be served a quarter of seven. The proceeds of the sale will be for the benefit of the styles in vogue in Martha Washington's day.

On Thursday evening, Feb. 22, will be given the drama, "The Deacon, in five acts." F. H. McCarthy is getting up this drama.

Norway Grange.

The entertainment and supper given by the grange last Saturday, proved a success in spite of the storm. Next Saturday comes the regular meeting and the time will be devoted mainly to the 2nd, the ladies of the grange will be having a sale of food, candies, ice cream and other articles, to be followed in the evening by an entertainment.

Holt School Improvement League.

The regular meeting of the league was held at the schoolhouse, Wednesday evening, Jan. 17, program as follows:

Singing, America.....League
Declaration.....League
Recitation.....Marion Hobbs
Reading.....Nelson Decker
Recitation.....Leona Bond
Song.....Alice Knightly
Recitation.....Clifford Buck
Recitation.....Theron Robbs
Declaration.....Theron Robbs

The next meeting will be at the school house, Wednesday evening, Jan. 31.

Dr. A. Thompson, of Philadelphia, has bought of W. H. Whitcomb, the lot between Col. Smith's and A. S. Kimball's houses on Bridge street. The old barn is to be removed and the coming summer. It is expected that the new house is to be occupied by Capt. W. H. Whitcomb and family who are to retire from the hotel business next fall.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Norway Water Co. held in the banking rooms of the Norway National bank, the old board of officers were elected:

Pres.—S. D. Andrews.
V. Pres.—N. T. Smith.
Sec.—H. D. Smith.
Treas.—W. Whitmarsh.
Directors—L. E. Bond, F. Q. Elliott, A. S. Kimball, A. L. F. Pike, F. A. Danforth.

The tickets for the gallery, Clerks' ball, on sale Friday evening, Jan. 26, at 7 p. m. at Stone's. The committees are making every effort to make the coming ball even more enjoyable than any of the eleven that have preceded it. A well arranged order of twenty dances has been gotten up, and will be "set to music," such as Stearns is capable of giving. The Clerk's association has for officers:

Pres.—P. W. Faunce.
V. Pres.—Chas. S. Gera.
Gen. Com.—Les M. Smith, W. L. Libby, Clarence Downing.

Merton Kimball visited Lewiston, Tuesday.

Miriam Caley spent last Sabbath at Hebron with her folks.

Arthur Hale is riding his bicycle on our streets this winter.

Elon Brown is hauling wood to the high school building from North Norway.

Improvement Lake Road View.

The contributions have been coming in fairly well the past week. In the spring some more work should be done. With the trees as now trimmed, the ground cleared and a substantial rail in places much is added to the attraction of the lake.

Some one says "Why don't Sanborn put down what he is to give?" That's a fair question. Sanborn has already paid $40.00 and up to going to press has received $32.00 and if no more is contributed Sanborn is out the balance, $14.05. Sanborn is willing to contribute a reasonable amount, perhaps twice as much as any person in town and should the funds exceed the amount now expended the balance will be expended in cleaning the ground next spring or will be paid back pro rata with what has been given.

Don't let our subscription worry any one, send in what you feel you can afford and are willing to give. The money will be judiciously expended.

The following have contributed since last week:

Amount previously accounted for.....$18.00
Dr. H. P. Jones, Norway.....2.00
S. C. Foster.....1.00
John A. Woodman.....1.00
Mrs. J. S. K. Dorchester Center, Mass.....2.00
E. E. Andrews, Norway.....2.00
Chas. L. Hathaway.....2.00

This is what one Massachusetts lady says:

I have just read the item in regard to the improvement along the Lake shore. I have thought many times when driving along that road what an improvement might be made there. To show my appreciation of the work I enclose $2.00 towards the expense. You may credit it to Mrs. J. S. K.

Heed the Warning.

F. A. Oxnard of West Medford, Mass., a former Norway boy, writes:—"I hope you will continue to urge upon the readers of your paper the importance of destroying the Brown-Tail Moth nests wherever found and to even put themselves out to do so; if they had lived in the midst of the battle against the Brown Tail and Gray moths I do, and could see the havoc they work in the few weeks they live, they would cut off and burn every nest they could find and would make it a business to hunt for them in order they might not spread. Medford has appropriated thousands of dollars and cut hundreds of cords of wood in her effort to suppress the pests, to say nothing of the work the State has done, and the end is not yet."

Hon. A. S. Kimball Ill.

Hon. A. S. Kimball suffered a collapse while at his law office, Friday. The direct cause is said to be acute indigestion. He has been very busy since his residence since. Mr. Kimball is much better, though not able to sit up any length of time yet.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bickford, having returned from their wedding trip, are visiting at D. L. Joslyn's.

The W. F. M. S. held its regular meeting at the M. E. parsonage, Wednesday afternoon, with good interest.

There will be a Poverty Party under the auspices of Co. D, 1st Inf., N. G. S. M., at Norway, on Thursday, Friday evening, Feb. 23d. Be getting your rags together. It's the rags that'll win this time.

Ladies' night will be observed by Oxford Lodge, F. & A. M., at Mason's Hall, Thursday evening, Feb. 1st. This is a private affair given by the Masons and the admission is by tickets and invitations.

Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Swett of Belfast visited Norway the past week. Mr. Swett was formerly in business in Norway. They were on a visit to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Swett of South Paris.

We see that Mrs. H. E. Fifield, who has been confined to the house for the last two weeks, is able to be out again and will join her husband in Baltimore soon. Mrs. Fifield has had acute jaundice since her return home.

Arthur G. Hill, who for two years was clerk for Freeport, Iowa, is in a real estate office at Des Moines, Ia. He hasn't as yet fully decided whether to stay there or return to this town. Mr. Howe is to hold the position for him a month longer.

We understand that H. E. Fifield of Norway, who is studying medicine at Baltimore, has been chosen by the Professor of Surgery in the school where he attends as one of his clinical assistants. He with three others was chosen out of a class of fifty-seven.

The Revival at the Methodist church last week was signalized by the power of the Holy Spirit in the conversion of many souls, and the Sabbath service, as it was said by one of the members, was the most wonderful in the history of the church. The meetings are to continue this week.

The principal color for the hall decorations for the clerk's ball this year, will be fern green. This will be a reminder of the foliage of summer, and it will make a fine background for the brightly colored costumes of the girls. Akers will as usual have charge of the decorations.

Another one of those famous suppers will be served by class No. 3 of the Universalist Sabbath School on Tuesday, Jan. 30, at 6:30. Steamed clams and clam chowder will be the leading eatables but there will be baked beans and all kinds of delicious pastry. There will be a table for the sale of fancy articles.

Col. A. M. Danham, the snowshoe maker, trapper, hunter and guide, has now turned his hand to literature. He is author of an article in the Hunter, Trader and Trapper, regarding the Peary North Pole expedition, and the snowshoes which he made for him. The article has a picture of the Colonel and the snowshoes, and it isn't bad reading.

Mr. R. S. S. C. sewing circle will meet with Mrs. Alice Cook, Thursday evening, Jan. 26, at 7:30. The members of the sewing circle will be Mrs. Charles F. Ridlon's Sabbath School class at the Universalist church. They meet one evening each week and make fancy articles. Tuesday evening, Jan. 30, they will give a clam supper at Concert hall, and have a sale of the articles they have made. The proceeds will be given for the benefit of the church.

Norway Municipal Court.

Thief Caught in the Act.

For some months past N. Dayton Bolster & Co. of South Paris have been having trouble in getting their cash to tally up right at night. It's come out minus the money left in their safe.

Dec. 27th, twenty-three dollars were missing and suspicion pointed to a certain man who was in their store on that afternoon, and on going over the matter it was recalled that almost invariably their cash was missing or run short on the nights after this man had visited them.

Officer W. L. Farrar was notified and a watch was instituted and marked bills were put in the safe. Last Tuesday, Officer Farrar caught Frank E. Pottle of Norway Lake in the act of taking money from the safe. He took a $5.00 bill. Officer Farrar was not in sight but was in a position where he could see him when he took the money.

Pottle admitted taking the money, also the $23 on Dec. 27th, and was lodged in jail for safe keeping. An effort was made to secure bail but was unsuccessful and he remained in jail until Thursday morning.

He was brought before the Norway Municipal court and pleaded guilty and was fined $25 and costs on the first warrant and on the second was sentenced to 60 days in jail, sentence to be suspended during good behavior. Fine and costs amounted to $34.45.

Walter Billings of Woodstock was before the Judge, Tuesday, for assault and battery on Wilson F. Jenkins of North Woodstock. Fine of $1 and cost amounting to $13, which he paid.

SOUTH PARIS.

Died Suddenly.

Charles Newell Porter died suddenly at his home in South Paris Sunday morning. He had been assisting in doing the chores at the barn, had finished milking and had apparently started for the house when he fell dead at the door of the barn. For two or three years he had been in feeble health and subject to attacks of heart trouble. His age was 77 years.

Mr. Porter was a native and life-long resident of Paris, son of Charles Porter, who with his brother John came to this town and settled in what is known as the Porter neighborhood about ninety years ago. He was a successful farmer and for nearly thirty years did a large part of the business supplying milk for quite a portion of the people of South Paris. For over 40 years he had been a member of the Congregational church. He was also a member of the Golden Cross and the Paris Grange.

Mr. Porter married Maria L. Millett of Norway who died a few years since. They had seven children, six of whom are now living: Frank L., of Chicago; Granville H., William A., Nellie M., wife of L. L. Powers and Hiram N., of South Paris; and Hattie L., wife of F. E. Douglass of Hopdale, Mass. He is also survived by one brother and two sisters, William Henry Porter and Mrs. Thomas Witt of Norway and Mrs. Lufkin of North Yarmouth.

The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. His pastor Rev. Mr. Baldwin made comforting remarks and read finely chosen selections from the scriptures. These selections were arranged in book form which he left for the family. The flowers were beautiful and numerous. The services were from Mr. Porter's late home. Interment in Riverside.

Ernest P. Crockett attended the poultry show in Boston.

Addie L. Giles visited her sister Charlotte, at Farmington, Sunday.

Owing to the illness of Ruth Stearns, her school was suspended last week after Tuesday.

Albert, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Parlin of Sabattus, is quite sick with diphtheria at their home.

W. A. Blake is to move here from Auburn. He is working in the B. F. Spinyer Co's. shoe factory.

Laura Dean of Buckfield has been visiting here; also Agnes Glover of East Sumner at Mrs. S. M. Glover's.

J. M. Murch has ten little chickens, just hatched out. They surely ought to be provided with good warm socks and mufflers.

Work will soon be begun on the building Mig. Co's. new storehouse. The building is to be put up will be 70x150 feet, four stories, giving a total floor space of 42,000 feet.

There will be an apron and candy sale at the vestry of the Methodist church, Wednesday afternoon, Jan. 31, followed by a supper and entertainment in the evening.

Trouble Makes You Miserable.

Everybody who reads the newspaper knows of the wonderful cures made by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy. It is the great medical triumph of the nineteenth century; it has cured thousands of years of scientific research by Dr. Kilmer, the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, and is wonderfully effective in curing lame back, stiffness of the bladder and prostate, which is the worst kidney trouble. Swamp-Root is not recommended if you have a bladder or kidney trouble. It has been used in so many ways, in hospital and private practice, and has been successful in every case that has been made by a physician of this paper, who have tried it. It may have a simple cure by mail, also a book telling you how to use Swamp-Root, and how to have kidney or bladder trouble. Write to the publisher, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, P.O. Box 100, Binghamton, N. Y., on a postcard.

Four Simple Rules

Follow Them and Health, Happiness and Prosperity Will be Yours.

If one would be healthy, happy and prosperous, follow these four simple rules. (1) Keep the bowels open every day. (2) Chew your food slowly and thoroughly. (3) Avoid indigestible foods. (4) If there are any symptoms of stomach troubles, take Mi-o-na before each meal until cured. No matter how many years you may have suffered with stomach troubles or how worried by sleeplessness, nervous- ness, loss of appetite, furred tongue, specks before the eyes, headaches, back- aches, weakness and debility, indiges- tion or other ills that are caused by a weak stomach, you can be cured by the faithful use of Mi-o-na. Take one of the little tablets before each meal with the fixed determination to get the most benefit out of it. Mi-o-na is not a patent medicine, it is not a cure all. It is a scientific remedy recom- mended but for one trouble—weakness of the digestive organs. It is a perma- nent cure, and is sold by Noyes Drug Store under a guarantee that it costs nothing unless it does all that is claimed for it.

When Mi-o-na has been used for a few days, the digestive system will be greatly improved that all the food eaten is converted into nutrition, so that nour- ishment and health are given to the whole system and there is a rapid in- crease in weight, strength and spirits.

QUICK LUNCH.

The Out of Date Class.

If there is one class I'd gladly decline, it is the top-dress conservative kind. They imagine they're right, right, right. Or statuette gods, indeed nothing less. It takes one quite, to meet such, I say. And often I've tried not to cross their way. To meet them and speak, I would gladly de- cline. But courtesy prompts me, and so I incline. For of all dreaded persons I quickly would pass I am the conceded, conservative class Who think themselves brighter than all under the sun. Save those weak as themselves, or some purse- proud one. Now if you'll just listen to my kindly rhyme, I'll inform you how to be up to the time. 'Tis a day when brotherhood is recognized And pastors, and churches are glad to unite. While fraternalties, sisterhoods, churches, all Should manifest cordial good will for all; So try and keep near in this right, worthy race, And be courteous to those whom you meet face to face. 'Tis conceded in you and quite out of date, To assume royal blood, and sit in such state, For readily welcome each personage true Who is willing to greet you, I think so, don't you? For sure you're no duceless, nor statue I hold, And none would believe such assumption so bold. For we're brothers and sisters all under one head, And royal blue bloods and slaveholders are dead. So kindly accept just a line, and I've ended, My injunction is this, and does not offend. Be cordial with those who are "smar" as your- self. And lay th' old conservative rule "on the shelf." For wisdom and justice are with us to-day, And the old English custom, long since passed away.

University of Maine.

Among the students who registered for the eight weeks' course in Agricul- ture are Ernest L. and Carl L. Brown of Norway.

Howard L. Churchill '06, North Buck- field, who has been absent from college several weeks doing these work, has re- turned to college, and just in time to preside to the biannual meeting of the Y. M. C. A., of which he is president.

Albert A. Whitcomb '06, Fryeburg, spent Yuletide in Washington, D. C., Baltimore, Md., and Harrisburg, Pa., together with Prof. Collin and the other members of the senior history class.

Merle A. Sturtevant '08, Hebron, was recently elected assistant business man- ager of the Blue Book, the new college magazine. Mr. Sturtevant has already put a lot of hard and telling work into the business end of this magazine, and it is believed that if the other members of the board of editors and directors pos- sess the same energy and power of appli- cation as Mr. Sturtevant, "The Blue Book" will be a success.

Albert C. Colley at Denmark, who re- gistered here last fall for the School Course of Agriculture, will register for the four years' course this February.

Frank R. Reed, Jr., '06, Rumford Falls, is working out a thesis on the "Effect of Lime in Cement" in the Portland Cement Club. He is performing a large number of tests and experiments and it is believed when Mr. Reed com- pletes his work he will have something of decided value to civil engineers.

Alton W. Richardson '06, Bethel, will absent himself from college during the months of February and March in order to work at home.

F. F. Smith '08, Rumford Falls, has been elected assistant leader of the Mandolin Club. This practically means that Mr. Smith will lead the club next year.

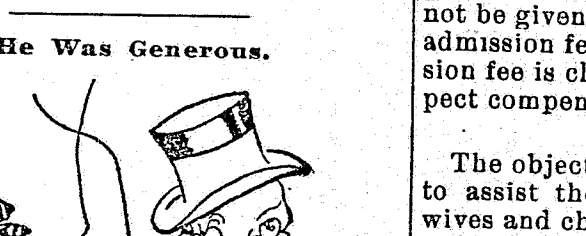

Owing to the increase in work in the State Experiment station, Mr. Hansom, state collector of feeds, foods and fertil- izers will remain at the station this spring and his store on the road will be promptly filled by E. A. Stanford, '06, Lowell.

Richard Talbot '07, Andover, was re- cently elected captain of the U. of M. second basketball team. This is only temporary for in another week Dick will be playing center on the first team.

R. H. Porter, '06, Paris, Capt. of U. of M. track team, has a large squad of men out trying for the Relay team. And it will be hard to pick the five men to represent the University at the Boston Athletic Games, but it is believed that Henry W. Pearce, '06, Hebron, and Mr. Porter himself will be two of the five.

R. H. Morrison, of Rumford Falls, had the pleasure of entertaining his mother and father, Friday and Saturday, of last week. Mr. and Mrs. Morrison visited the several boys from Rumford, and were heartily received and enjoyed by all. Oxford Co. people are always wel- come.

Grace—I actually had three men at my feet last week.

Edith—Oh, well, don't get discour- aged. Perhaps you may yet find a chi- ropodist who will be able to afford you relief.

Gave Out Together.

Several of the friends and former neighbors to the number of twenty-nine spent the evening with L. E. Bean, Cora J. Mason and Allan McLeod at their home at Birchmont farm recently, where they enjoyed very much in playing games, etc., till a late hour, receiving a good treat, and returning home well pleased with their good time.

J. E. Pike, one of our village traders, has a nice small store, which is well filled with all kinds of groceries com- monly kept in a country village. Near his store he has a set of buildings con- sisting of a house and out stable, and connected and very convenient, situated in a pleasant part of this village, where he makes his home, taking his meals at a boarding house. The buildings are in good repair, well finished and furnished, and the only thing lacking to make this pleasant home complete is a companion, and no doubt if the right one should happen along matters might be adjusted so as to be satisfactory all around.

JOHNSON'S

Anodyne LINIMENT

A universal friend in need. Cures while you are waiting for the doctor. Keep it on the shelf, where it will be handy to take on sugar when you have a cough or cold. It not only relieves asthma, bronchitis, croup and gripe, but is invaluable in case of bilious colic, cramps, cholera or diarrhea. Quickly reduces all inflammation in any part of the body—it heals wounds, burns and scalds—it allays the suffering caused by bruises, strains, sprains, and all kinds of soreness. Ask your druggist for Johnson's Anodyne Liniment. 25 cents and 50 cents—larger bottle holds three times as much.

College of Agriculture.

The Lecture Courses.
Ideas of, and methods in educational work have undergone a complete change. It is regarded and generally recognized as the duty of a State University to pro- vide some means by which its teachings can be carried out over the state as well as given in college class rooms. This work in its various forms is commonly known as "Extension Work." This is particularly true of the work of a Col- lege of Agriculture. This college bears a direct and definite relationship to the farming interests of the state.

Realizing this obligation the College of Agriculture of the University of Maine offers to the people of the state the opportunity of obtaining informa- tion along the lines of practical agricul- ture, and rural betterment in the form of extension lectures. A list of the lec- tures and lecturers will be furnished to those interested. These lectures will be given free of charge to those who desire them if the travelling expenses of the lectur- ers are paid. Since the object of the course is to do the greatest good to the greatest number these free lectures will not be given before audiences when an admission fee is charged. If an admis- sion fee is charged the lecturer will ex- pect compensation. There are also

Reading Courses.
The object of these reading courses is to assist the farmers of Maine, their wives and children in their self-culture and help them to better themselves. Various problems which country life pre- sents. Agriculture can no longer be practiced in a haphazard way by men who are not fitted for it, but in these days of keen competition a man must be well read and thoroughly informed to be successful. It is to supply this need that these reading courses have been formed.

The College of Agriculture will issue booklets from time to time to be used in the reading course and will recom- mend certain books to supplement the booklets. Only the newest and best agri- cultural books will be used, thus giving a farmer and his family an opportu- nity to become familiar with the best lit- erature of the day and also lay a broad foundation for a good agricultural lib- rary. It is by reading the best books and papers that we learn to put more thought into the problems of the farm, and rural life becomes more appreciated and enjoyable.

These reading courses are planned to cover every phase of rural life. These courses will be given by means of text books and pamphlets. The pamphlets will be furnished gratis and the student is expected to buy the books. Written questions will be sent from time to time, giving the student an op- portunity to express what he has learned in definite form by returning written answers to the questions.

The cost of taking one or more of these courses will be very slight. The pur- chase of a very few books will be the only expense, and the books are not ex- pensive.

WEST PARIS.

A Wise Miss.

The drama Valley Farm was repeated last Friday evening to quite a large audience, there being several present from out of town, and the audience seemed well pleased with the entertainment. All was played even better than before. All the songs in the specialties between acts which were also repeated received hearty encores and the following verse recited in a loud clear voice by little Maude, the two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Tuell, brought down the house:
"When I go out to promenade
I look so cute and gay,
I have to take a dog along
To keep the boys away."

The financial proceeds will make the net profit from the drama about $50.

How Many Birthdays?

You must have had sixty at least! What? Only forty? Then it must be your gray hair. Ayer's Hair Vigor stops these frequent birthdays. It gives all the early, deep, rich color to gray hair, and checks falling hair. And it keeps the scalp clean and healthy.

"I was greatly troubled with dandruff which produced a most disagreeable itching of the scalp. I tried Ayer's Hair Vigor and the dandruff soon disappeared. My hair also stopped falling out and now I have a splendid growth of hair."—DAVID C. KINZE, Plainfield, Conn.

WEST LOVELL.

A Great Sufferer.
Mrs. Lucy B., wife of Roscoe LeBaron, died Sunday, Jan. 21st, at the age of 41 years, 8 months, 28 days. She has been sick for the past ten years and for the last few years a great sufferer, and been tenderly cared for by her husband. For the last five months her death has been expected at any time. Everything has been done for her recovery by her family, but death claimed her. She leaves a husband and one son, Oris and wife. Two sons, Carlton and Lincoln, have preceded her to the better land for which she was prepared, and wished for the time to come to release her from her sufferings. She had made preparations for her departure and many counsels and good words were spoken to her friends as she had bidden them good bye. The funeral was held at her late home on Wednesday at 1 o'clock p. m.

Pamela McDaniel is still sick in bed. Her age is against her for a speedy recovery.

OXFORD.

Fore Street.
James Pledge will pay 50 live weight for fat pigs or 7c dressed.

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lovejoy died Jan. 16th, after a short illness. The funeral was held Thursday afternoon. Miss Retha Glover spoke words of comfort to the bereaved parents.

Harry Estes has had a hard cold. Quite a number have been on the sick list. Mrs. Augusta Cole is very feeble, not able to sit up long.

Rob Johnson has secured a position on the Rumford Falls Times, and will go there next Monday. We are sorry to have Mr. Johnson leave town.

Christina Koch of Portland occupied the Baptist pulpit last Sunday. Those who heard her were highly pleased with her. Monday she will visit the high school and other places of interest.

Next Sunday C. E. Koch will preach his last sermon here. He goes to Sedgwick to settle there. C. E. Koch will be at Emily Felt's next Thursday evening at 7.30. It is hoped that all who can will come.

SOUTH WATERFORD.

Churches to Unite.
The sermon by Rev. Mr. Parsons, Presiding Elder, was from Daniel 3: 29, "Because there is no other god that can deliver after this sort." The discourse was very able and forceful with fine and clear-cut sentiments. There was a large appreciative audience. After the services it was decided that the churches be united for this place, a school should be consummated, and in view of the fact that the Congregational society is the larger that there should be a Congregational minister chosen. A resident minister is desired, to be present and meet the wants of the people at all times.

Mr. and Mrs. V. Decker have returned to their farm.

Blanche Farwell has gone to Portland for a few weeks' stay.

James Pledge will pay 50 live weight for fat pigs or 7c dressed.

School at Mutiny closes this week after a successful term of school.

Carroll Sanborn and Maude Learned, both of this town, have been united in marriage.

J. S. Cheever, who has been ill for some time, is thought to be somewhat improved.

A warm wave passed over this section this week, thermometer registering from 50 to 60 degrees above zero.

Stella Chase, a little girl 11 years old, is doing housework at Bion Sanborn's. She also does a part of the chores, work that not many little girls would like to try.

There is to be a public installation of the officers of Upton Grange, Saturday evening, Jan. 27, with an address by E. H. Libby, secretary of the Maine State Grange. Pie supper after the installation.

EAST HIRAM.

Lansing H. Hubbard is employed at the Prebble House, Portland.

Elsie Lombard is employed in the family of Daniel Ward, of Denmark.

Mrs. Sadie Flint Winters and daughter, returned to their home in Braitree, Mass., last week.

NORTH WATERFORD.

On Roll of Honor.
Schools closed in this village after a short term of seven weeks. Lena Bissell in the primary, had an interesting term of her scholars. A large class of grammar taught by Charles Harris of Detroit was unusually small, but Mr. Harris is a very nice teacher. The following scholars in the primary were not absent one-half day:

Susie Lewis, Ruth Elliott, Hazel Lewis, Ava Andrews, Annie York, Russell Bethell.

Frances Brown is visiting her brother, Walter Brown.

Frank Coffeen stepped on a nail and has been laid up several days.

Frank Charles fell a few days ago and injured his knee badly. He is obliged to go on crutches.

George Hobson has not been able to work in the mill for several days on account of ill health.

Rev. Mr. Fuller tells us there were 33 present at the Sunday evening meeting. Let the good work go on.

David Lebrone is getting along nicely with his dislocated shoulder. He has borne his misfortune with great patience and fortitude.

The circle which was to have been held at Mrs. A. B. Washburn's, Tuesday evening was postponed the second time on account of the weather.

The warm weather is something unusual. Look out for some glare ice when the wind gets north. There is very little snow, which makes lumbermen groan and blacksmiths laugh.

Mrs. Elia Charles does not improve as her friends would like. She is a great sufferer with a complication of troubles, of which rheumatism is not the least.

Mrs. Minnie French is working for her.

EAST GREENWOOD.

Fell into the Mill Pond.
Clarence Swan, a little boy eight years old, while playing with a piece of floating ice in the Willis mill pond, lost his balance and fell in, going to the bottom. But his father seeing him when he fell was ready to catch him when he rose.

Ed. Dudley of South Paris is going to board at Perl Whitman's and haul logs for the Paris M'Pg Co.

Flora Edgerly has returned home after a very enjoyable visit at her cousin's, Eva Marshall's on High street.

EAST HEBRON.

Mrs. Caroline Ramsdell.
Mrs. Caroline Ramsdell passed away on the morning of last Friday. Three weeks since she lighted a candle and went down cellar while preparing dinner. She soon was aware of the must fall and thought she could lean against the cellar wall but fell and struck the bottom of the cellar. Her son was at work and no one was in the house but she got down on her other knee and dragged along up the stairs and got in the room where there was a fire.

At last her son came in and sent a dispatch to Turner for a doctor, who came at once and said her hip bone was broken so badly it could not be set. She was a severe sufferer, but her sufferings died a few years since. She left four children, two sons and two daughters: Ada, wife of Willis Thorne of Hebron; Alma, wife of W. R. Packard; Frank, who lived within a few rods from his old home and has a wife and one child; and Willie, the youngest son, unmarried, who lived with his mother.

The mother will not only be missed by her family but by her neighbors as she was always ready to assist in time of need.

Joseph W. Parker Dead.

He died at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. C. O. Scribner of Casco, Jan. 11th, aged over 85 years. For many years he lived in Norway and worked at his trade as carpenter and builder. About seven years ago he went to live with his daughter in Casco shortly after his wife died.

He deceased and his wife were natives of Hallowell, his wife being Mary M. Sawyer, a daughter of the late P. L. Libby of that town. The first few years after marriage Mr. Parker lived in Oshkosh, Wis., and moved from there to Norway about sixty years ago.

There are two daughters besides the one with whom he lived, Mrs. P. L. Libby of New York and Mrs. Annie S. Gayton of Tulare, California.

Interment was made in Casco, where his wife is buried.

SOUTH ALBANY.

C. W. York recently sold a cow to Fred McKen.

Merritt Sawin helped Henry Sawin kill a beef cow last Monday.

Grace Sawin has returned from Waterford, where she has been attending school.

Roy Lord has cut and engaged to cut some 4,000 cakes of ice and some of it he has hauled and packed and covered with sawdust.

S. Young of East Waterford has been through here with his meat cart this week. He bought some poultry of R. Henley and a pig of Merritt Sawin.

The steam from the little mill at Tuskeheola looks very business like from here but was missed one or two days last week as it was unable to run because of the high water in the brook near where the mill stands.

J. D. Horr recently visited his aunt, Ruth Flint, at Lovell. He found Miss Flint quite smart for one of her age, being some over 80 years. She was a native of this town and one who is very kindly remembered by all who knew her.

NORTH BETHEL.

DR. KENNEDY'S FAVORITE REMEDY

Breaks no Hearts, Excuses no Crimes.

Dr. David Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY is not a disguised enemy of the human race; where it cannot help, it does not harm. It is composed of vegetable ingredients and does not heat or inflame the blood but cools and purifies it. In all cases of Kidney troubles, Liver complaints, Constipation of the Bowels, and the delicate derangements which afflict women, the action of Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY is beyond praise. Thousands of grateful people voluntarily testify to this, in letters to Dr. Kennedy; and with a warmth and fullness of words which mere business certificates never possess. It makes no drunkards—excuses no crimes—breaks no hearts. In its coming there is hope, and in its use there is healing. We challenge a trial and are confident of the result. Your druggist has it. ONE DOLLAR A BOTTLE. Bear in mind the name and address: Dr. David KENNEDY, Rondout, New York.

The Man At The Desk

Mrs. S. F. Farnum,
WEST PARIS, ME.

Mystery at Kezar Falls.

Some More About Suicide of Melvin Douglass.

Mrs. Sally Day, 76 years of age, sister of David Varney, the aged farmer who was shot down and robbed in the tie-up of his barn, two miles from Kezar Falls village, Dec. 6, has gone to live with her daughter, Mrs. Chick, mother of Wesley Chick, the suspected murderer. The town authorities offered Mrs. Day a home at the Varney farm. At that time she said she preferred to remain where she was at the Varney farm. There she continued to live alone and take care of the cow, hens and pig, until the Chicks came down and insisted that she go back home with them. They live about four miles from the Varney place, very near the New Hampshire border.

The officers who investigated the murder have been unable to trace all the money stolen from Varney. In Chick's possession at the time of his arrest was about $150, which he claimed to have saved from his earnings, but which the prosecuting officers will attempt to prove was stolen from the secret pocket of the shirt of the murdered man. Within a week of the murder, a neighbor was asked by Varney to count his money. There was about $250. Varney's sister, who kept house for him, says she thinks he had that amount in his shirt pocket at the time of the murder.

The county and town officers, who worked on the case, have been trying to locate the remaining $100. They believe that Wesley Chick hid it, or else that he shared with some one in the spoils of the crime. While they have been convinced from the first that Wesley Chick was alone in the performance of the crime, they have a strong suspicion that at least one other person had guilty knowledge.

County Attorney Charles P. Barnes, of Norway, who personally investigated the case the day following the murder, and will prosecute Chick at the March term of the Supreme Court in Oxford county, says that the recent suicide of Melvin Douglass, a State witness against Chick, will not materially affect the State's case. It was Douglass who identified Chick's shot gun, found in the woods a half-mile from the Varney farm, after Chick had told sheriff and county attorney that he had left it hanging on a peg at his father's home. Douglass also testified at the coroner's inquest that two days before the murder he saw Chick going towards the Varney woods with a lard pail in his hand. A lard pail was found near the gun, and had been used to heat water over a little fire in the woods for the supposed purpose of washing from the murderer's face the smut he had used as a disguise. A box of black grease paint, a mixture of vaseline and lampblack, partly used, was found near the pail and the gun. The night of Chick's arrest the village barber, who shaved him, noticed smut behind the eyes and on his eyelids.

The villagers are still talking of the strange suicide of Douglass, which occurred about a week after the murder. Douglass, who was related to Chick by marriage, was a middle-aged farmer who lived a mile from the Varney place. He was of a nervous temperament and his demeanor at the coroner's inquest was impressive.

Contrary to custom, the coroner's inquest was public. It began in the parlor of the hotel in the village, and was concluded in the evening in the Town Hall which was crowded with spectators. Douglass gave his testimony in the evening session. He was far from a willing witness. The day before he had seemed to talk freely with the officers about the case, but his testimony in the inquest had to be dragged from him piecemeal.

County Attorney Barnes had become exasperated with Douglass because of his dodging questions, and after the witness left the stand the county attorney remarked to him: "I will find a way to get the whole truth out of you when the case comes before the grand jury."

With this remark burning in his ears, Douglass drove home. He was blue when he arrived there and the next day his face wore a worried look. His widow says she tried to reason with him, but he seemed to think the officers were trying to drag him into the case as a suspect. He would sit in his kitchen, looking for hours into the fire or at the floor. The seventh day after the inquest, he went to his barn to do the chores, an hour later his wife found him lying on the barn floor. A blood stained razor lay beside him. He had severed a small artery in his wrist, and hacked his throat cutting off the wind-pipe, but had not reached the jugular vein. He died the next morning.

It is believed that the remark which the county attorney made to Douglass at the inquest about finding a way to get the truth from him, caused him to fear that an incident 19 years ago would be reached in some way with the case.

The incident was the death of a man for whom Sally Day, sister of David Varney, kept house. He was found dead on a raft in Colcord pond, near his farm. One eye was gouged out. There was a strong talk of foul play at the time, but the conclusion accepted by the neighbors was that he had fallen on a stick which had entered the eye and pierced the brain.

Melvin Douglass was working at the farm at that time. His story and that of Mrs. Day coincided and the case was never carried to a grand jury.—[Sentinel.]

How to Find a Bee Tree.

Simple Method Followed with Success by Hunters.

Some bee hunters simply put out a bit of honeycomb, or even trickles of honey on a clean chip, never resorting to the pungency of scorched wax. And these are apt to mark their bees with sprinkles of flour in order to trace their flight. Whatever the bait, it is set on a stump, or stone, or fallen tree, in some open glade of deep woods. As certainly as the bees hold even one bee tree, there will soon be a dozen bees sucking with all their might. The bee hunter, stock still, watches them narrowly, aiming always to sprinkle those that come first, since he knows they are from the nearest swarm.

Commonly he follows the earliest bee at its first rise. If he loses it he goes back for another. He may wait to see half a dozen take flight from their lines, making up his mind as to the bee tree's probable location. If all of them take one course he has plain sailing and it is only a matter of following that course, keeping his eyes and ears the while very wide open. If there are crossflights, scattering in all directions, the thing to do is to follow the best marked line home, if possible in the wake of a laden bee, and put out fresh bait for the others upon another day.

Following a laden bee is not so easy. The spiral rise is confusing, but a master bee hunter is apt to be hawk-eyed. He watches the black mounting speck until it strikes line, then runs along its line, knowing well it will go straight to within a few feet of the hive. At the home portal there may be a slight hovering, even a landing upon the trunk itself before crawling home. The entrance may be a knothole, or an innocent looking crack or seam. Whatever it is, it is apt to show a faint yellow-brown stain, got from the passing in and out of so many bees, wax and honey laden.

In the Wintry Woods.

Did it ever occur to you, my young readers, that this new year tide, when the earth seems rapped in frost and snow, and the woods in which you ramble on summer days are bending 'neath the weight of snow-laden boughs, that in the depths of these old New England forests there is a life still stirring? Do you ever wonder as to the habits of our winter neighbors?

What! didn't know we had any? Do you remember at the first breath of chilly air, when the brown ground hid beneath the white snowflakes those soft gray clad birds with white breasts, that flew like a misty cloud about the hedge, hunting crumbs? These are the snow birds that play hid and seek among the pine boughs during the winter. The day has brilliant patches of gleaming color against his frosty surroundings.

His bright eyes find every visible bud or seed on tree or bush to make his morning meal.

The woodpeckers, of various kinds, drum busily upon hollow logs, and woe betides the insect when its winter hiding place is found by the long sharp tongue of our feathered friend. One of the largest birds that has a constitution strong enough to withstand our rigorous climate is the owl.

Sheltered by the great trunks of the trees, hidden from the creeping sun-light, finding shadowy nooks each day, this great bunch of feathers sleeps away the hours of light and when the "evening shadows lengthen" comes out from his sequestered nook and takes a look about him in the darkness.

Ghostly sentinels of the night they seem, but in reality they are very beauteous, and their winter overcoats of downy feathers, and their habits of life are interesting indeed to study. These are not nearly all our winter neighbors of the forest.

Over the white-crested drifts you will find tiny footprints, where perchance some convention of the rabbit family had been held. The winding pathways of these fairy-like footprints will lead you into the very depths of the forest, if you follow them, where our four-footed friend, in his ermine robe, will blink at you from his bright eyes, and with a tilt of his long ears, as much as to say "watch me if I can," will show you his still longer hind legs as he bounds away o'er his frozen race-track, and it's a spry hunter that catches Mr. Rabbit.

Children's Corner.

Robert's Adventure.

One evening long ago, at a lonely cottage, there lived a boy and his mother. "Well," his mother said, "have you finished your supper so soon, Robert?" "Yes, mother; I wasn't very hungry, and I am going out now."

"All right, don't be gone long." As the boy went along his attention was suddenly attracted to a man going up to Squire Gordon's, who at that time was away. So he watched him. He got near to the house and then Robert crept nearer to the man who he got close enough to see him raise the window. After he had disappeared within the window the boy ran off to the police station where he told the policeman in charge of the station. When he had finished the head police sent two officers to arrest the man, but when they got there the man was gone and as it was too dark to hunt that night they had to give it up.

The boy went home but did not say anything to his mother because he would worry her. The next day he went to the police station to see what would be done. They told him that the detectives were after the man. So the boy wandered over the town hoping to hear some news that would help him find the missing robber.

Having got a good look at him so he could tell if he saw him, he inquired at the depot if such a man had bought a ticket. One of the ticket agents told him that he had seen a man like that, but he had not bought a ticket. He told him if such a man did enter by a ticket, and where for. Meanwhile, the detectives were searching the woods to see if they could hear anything about the man.

The boy walked along the streets when he caught sight of the robber just ahead of him. He quickened his pace and overtook the robber. There happened to be a policeman near at hand, and the boy being the first to speak, the policeman came upon about the time the boy caught up with him. The boy told the policeman about it and he arrested him. In time the robber was tried and was found to be guilty. The boy was rewarded.

Some Painting Needed

What kind of paint will you use? Can you be sure of getting it? So few paints are reliable—so many are not. It's costly to have paint "chalk off," fade or peel soon after the bill is paid. Save money and uncertainty by using PORTLAND PAINTS. They have a reputation to uphold, and the makers a name to protect. PORTLAND PAINTS wear equally well on interior work or exposed surfaces. They are durable. Sun, rain and wind cannot blister, wash or fade them. And they are economical to apply. Work easy under the brush and spread evenly. Your dealer will show you our sample sheet, containing 48 durable colors for every class of work.

Mary Ann Cummings.

Mrs. Bean, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Estes, was born in Paris, Aug. 5th, 1819. In 1839 she was joined in marriage to George W. Bean, who was a native of Bethel. The union was blessed with five children.

During the late Civil war Mr. Bean gave his services and life to his country, dying in Andersonville prison in 1863. Mrs. Bean did her best to provide a home for herself and her fatherless children.

Mrs. Bean became the wife of Daniel Cummings. During their married life they lived in Rumford, Locke's Mills, Watford, Woodstock and Peru. Many years ago she became a member of the Baptist church in Woodstock. About twenty years ago she became a member of the Methodist church at Locke's Mills.

She died in Peru, Jan. 8th, aged 86 years and 15 months, leaving to mourn her loss her husband, three children and seventeen grandchildren.

For several years she has been the last surviving member of her father's family. Funeral services were held at the home of her grandson, Virgil Abbott at East Rumford, Thursday, Jan. 11th, conducted by Rev. G. B. Hannaford.

The summer passenger business on the Grand Trunk for 1905 exceeded very largely that of any previous year.

WEST STONEHAM.

From Sunny Italy. Your correspondent received a very interesting letter dated Dec. 29, from a friend in Albano, Italy. She writes that the climate is very sunny and beautiful. December is like June here, flowers in blossom and vegetables growing. The letter was full of interest regarding the manners and customs of the people and they find so much difference in the modes of cooking. Their cook stoves are made without an oven and olive oil is used instead of butter for preparing food and for frying purposes. She wrote that it seemed very novel to eat the foreign foods at first but now they were longing for some of our bread, pies and puddings. Donkeys are used mostly in place of horses. They are quite small but can carry very heavy loads, and women are seen carrying heavy loads on their heads. The party have visited Rome and have seen some of the old churches, centuries old, that we read of and many other historical places.

EAST OTISFIELD.

Frederick Robie Grange. Saturday, Jan. 13, was the annual installation of officers of Frederick Robie Grange. A good delegation was present by invitation from Crooked River and Oxford Granges. The officers installed were:

Mrs. F. E. Stone.
O. C. H. Pratt.
L. Mrs. Helen Martin.
S. Roscoe Whitman.
S. E. Kruse Greenleaf.
Treas.—Daniel Brett.
Chap.—Mrs. A. R. Whitman.
Sec.—Mrs. Ella Miller.
Ceres—Mrs. F. E. Stone.
Flora—Mrs. Thompson.
Pomona, lady steward and gate keeper were absent.

The work of installation was very ably done by Past Master H. I. Lowell, of Crooked River Grange, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jilison, of Crooked River Grange. In the afternoon a fine program prepared by the Lecturer was given, consisting of readings, recitations, songs, and a farce entitled "Popping by Proxy." The parts were all well taken. Considerable time was given to the question: "Resolved that the daily papers are an injury rather than a benefit to the public." It was very ably answered by J. D. Howe, aff., and W. W. Andrews neg., afterward discussed by N. C. Picham, Crooked River Grange, Mr. Breed, Lakeside Grange, W. R. Farrie, Oxford, and several others.

An entertainment and antiquarian supper was held in the Grange hall, at Otisfield Gore, last Friday evening, Jan. 19. The entertainment began with a march played by Evie Linnell. The Old Folks presented a very striking appearance on the floor costumed in very antique regalia, among which were some very nice costumes. The exercises began with singing by the Old Folks, "Auld Lang Syne, Portland, New Jerusalem," and other ancient songs, after which were readings, recitations and a farce entitled "The Widow's Proposal," which was very ably rendered and highly appreciated by the audience. After the supper served by the Old Ladies the time was spent in playing games until time warned people they must bid adieu to the Auld folks' hoping to meet again.

GILEAD.

Edson Lary.

Edson Lary passed away at his home, Saturday night, Jan. 20, after a short illness of pneumonia. Mr. Lary was a native of this place and was liked by all. Besides his wife, Mrs. Lola Lary, he leaves four children, Mrs. A. T. Heath, Mrs. E. D. Griffin, Cora and Wallace M. Lary, and a large circle of friends. Among the floral tributes were a pillow of flowers by the children, bouquet of roses and pinks, by Mrs. Ada Cole and Edith Cole, bouquet pinks and ferns, by Mrs. J. W. Bennett.

Mr. Lary leaves two brothers and one sister, Joseph Lary, of Norway, Hosea Lary, of Gilead, and Mrs. George Tucker, of South Paris, and a half brother and sister, Frank Walker, of Waterville, and Mrs. Jason Kimball, of Gilead.

The funeral was at his late residence, Tuesday, at 1 o'clock, Rev. Henry Farrar and Rev. Mr. Forbes were the attending clergymen. Interment in family lot.

Mable Harding is improving. Pearl Jordan spent Sunday, in Auburn, with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Bennett went to Portland, Saturday.

Mrs. Wesley Dennis returned to her home in West Bethel, Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Griffin, from Portland, attended Mrs. Griffin's father's funeral.

Mrs. Morse and son Ray, returned home from Auburn, on a visit to her parents.

Ephraim Wight has trimmed up a grove of pines back of A. D. Wight's.

Mr. Wight is the oldest man in town and very smart at his age.

NORWAY AND VICINITY
Clerks' Ball Next Tuesday.

The twelfth annual ball to be given by the Norway Clerks' Association, Tuesday evening is the event of the season.

Spontaneously arising, certain of the time to be had at this, the most moderate event of the season. Both tickets and the gallery seats are being with rapid sale, though the room for more both in the gallery and on the floor.

The concert by Stearns' orchestra be a well chosen selection of music.

A number from Auburn who have attended in other years are planned to attend and bring their friends, and we hear the same from places along the Grand Trunk road.

Improving the Wayside. Adelaide Shattuck is to have landscape gardening done on the side of the Shattuck farm at Lake. This is now a very attractive place, and without doubt a little by the roadside will make it better.

Every farmer or owner of land on the roadside in Norway should study prove it. These long winter are just the time to think out a plan to make the road beside the land full,—to trim out the bushes and the shade trees,—and these winter when there is not much work to do while there is not much snow the weather is just comfortable for doing such work to put these plans into practice. He who plans a shade by the roadside is a public benefactor. This is equally true of the one who makes a shade tree out of an old bush.

Norway's Pest Bog.
The out of town papers have discovered "Norway's pest bog." of our villagers, though they have it all their lives, may not
